Objective

Portfolio: kprobeck.github.io

To obtain a cooperative education, or paid internship, position as a game programmer or a software development programmer, available Summer 2017.

Projects

- Designed and balanced a table-top game, “inDICEsion,” a game where foam dice are thrown at boards to score points, or can be thrown to knock other players’ dice out of the competition. This is a family-friendly game built for anywhere from 2 to 6 players. Game complete with a team size of five people over the span of a six week process.
- Programmed and designed User Interface, animations, and created levels for “Color Coded,” a Puzzle game built for mobile using Unity. Created artwork, animations and all User Interface for the application, providing a friendly user experience. Team size of five people over the span of six weeks, currently expanding on the project with a team size of three. Currently in the Semi-Finals for the Microsoft Imagine Cup 2017.
